

FINAL FINISH PROCEDURES

*Rich conditioner that protects and adds luster to vinyl, plastic and polycarbonate surfaces.
Regular use will add value and life.*

1. Apply a thin film of Final Finish Cream to the surface, using a clean, dry, flannel cloth.
Do not use paper towels, micro fiber wipers, industrial wipers as any of these will scratch transparencies.

Hand buffing or a rotary tool and soft foam pad may be used in this process. If using a rotary tool, do not use one rated over 2500 rpms.
2. Buff the product into the transparency using slow methodical strokes. Stroke pattern is not of significance in this process, ie: straight line versus circular. Avoid using pressure. A light touch works best. Work in small 1 foot square areas so you can easily incorporate the cream into the surface before it dries.
3. If the cream dries on the surface it will be more difficult to work into the surface and scratching could occur. You can mist the surface with clean water and continue buffing if this happens. It is also advisable to mist the flannel cloth slightly prior to beginning this process.
4. Avoid using too much product. If too much is used gumming on the surface can occur, making the buffing process more laborious.
